INSTRUCTIONS

1. The Annual Appraisal Report is an Important document. It provides the basic and vital inputs for assessing the performance of an officer and for his/her further advancement in his/her career. The officer reported upon, the Reporting Authority and the Reviewing Authority should, therefore, undertake the duty of filling out the form with a high sense of responsibility.
2. Performance appraisal through Confidential Reports should be used as tool for human resource development. Reporting officers should realize that the objective is to develop an officer so that he/she realizes his / her true potential. It is not meant to be a faultfinding process, but a developmental one. The Reporting Officer and the Reviewing Officer should not shy away from reporting shortcomings in performance, attitudes or overall personality of the officer reported upon.
3. The columns should be filled with due care and attention and after devoting adequate time. Any attempt to fill the report in a casual manner will be easily discernible to the higher authorities. The Reporting Officer should remove any extra sheets attached by the officer reported upon in his self-appraisal in the Part-IB. If the Reviewing Authority is satisfied that the Reporting Authority had made the report without due care and attention, he shall record a remark to that effect in Item 3 of Part III. The Government shall enter the remarks in the confidential Roll of the Reporting Authority.
4. The Reporting Officer should at the beginning of the year, preferably in April, set quantitative/physical/financial targets or draw up a work plan in consultation on with each of the officers (where targets are not feasible) reporting to him. Performance appraisal is a joint exercise between the officer reported upon and the Reporting Officer. In the case of an officer taking up a new assignment in the course of the reporting year, such targets/goals may be set or work plan with in one month of the officer assuming the charge. Both the officers should clearly know and understand the targets or work plan.
5. Although performance appraisal is a year-end exercise, in order that it may be a tool for human resource development, the Reporting Officer and the Officer reported upon should meet during the course of the year at regular intervals to review the performance and take necessary corrective steps, including removal of constraints. At the end of every financial year or any shorter period, as may be required, the Reporting Officer should share with the officer reported upon a general assessment of his performance and observe shortcomings and record an entry to this effect in the ACR.
6. It should be the endeavor of each appraiser to present the trust possible picture of the appraisee in regard to his/her performance, conduct, behaviour and potential. Assessment should be confined to the appraisee's performance during the period of report only. Some posts of the same rank may be more exacting than others. The degree of stress and strain in any post may also vary from time to time. These facts and external constraints should be commented upon appropriately. Aspects on which an appraisee is to be evaluated on different attributes are delineated below each item. The appraiser should deal with these and other aspects relevant to the attributes.

7. The competent authorities would prescribe the Reporting authority and Reviewing Authority in respect of each officer or class of officers.
8. The comments should be in a narrative form and point out the good qualities as well as shortcomings of the officer on various aspects of Performance Assessment as indicated in Part II. Comments on any of the following may also be included:
 - a. Attitude to work responsiveness to change.
 - b. Coordination ability and speed of disposal
 - c. Willingness to accept responsibilities and decision marking.
 - d. Ability to inspire and motivate subordinates and vigilant about their integrity.
 - e. Response to human rights, citizen friendliness and public relations.

Words and phrases should be chosen carefully and should accurately reflect the intention of the authority recording the answer. Please do not use omnibus expressions like 'outstanding', 'very good', 'Good', 'Average', 'below average'. In respect of officers of supertime scale, greater emphasis should be given on the management and leadership qualities and initiative, planning and conceptual abilities. Overall Grading given against item No.7 in Part II should sum up performance assessment and general assessment reported in item No.5.1 and 5.2.

9. Time Schedule: Officer reported upon shall record his self-appraisal in Part-IB within the prescribed period. If the officer may take the initiative to remind the officer reported upon in writing asking him to submit his self-appraisal by the stipulated date. If no self-appraisal is received by the stipulated date, the reporting officer shall record his comments on the performance of the officer to be reported upon in Part II even without any self-appraisal.
10. The Reviewing and Accepting Authorities should similarly record their comments on the CR within 60 days of receipt of the remarks of Reporting/Reviewing Authority respectively.
11. The officer after filling Part IB and Part V of the Form will send the form directly to Reporting Officer under intimation to administrative section of the Ministry, if working with affairs of Union of India or the Personnel Department of the State Government, if working with the affairs of the State Government. Similarly the Reporting Officer will fill in part II and part V of the form and detach Part V which will be sent to Joint Secretary, Training Division, Department of Personnel and Training, Government of India, 3rd Floor, Block IV, Old JNU Campus, New Delhi-110067. Each superior authority will forward the form to the next authority in the same manner as explained above. The Accepting Authority will complete the form and send it to the custodian of ACR dossier.

12. The following procedure as laid down in the Ministry of Home Affairs OM No.51/4/64-Estt.(A) dated 21.06.1965 should be followed in filling up the column relating to integrity.

- (i) If the Officers integrity is beyond doubt, it may be so stated.
- (ii) If there is any doubt or suspicion, the column should be left blank and action taken as under:
 - a. A separate secret note should be recorded and followed up. A copy of the note should also be sent together with the Confidential Report to the next superior Officer, who will ensure that the follow up action is taken expeditiously. Where it is not possible either to certify the integrity or to record the secret note, the Reporting Officer should state either that he had not watched the officer's work for sufficient time to form a definite judgement or that he has heard nothing against the officer, as the case may be.
 - b. If, as a result of the follow up action, the doubts or suspicions are cleared, the officers integrity should be certified and an entry made accordingly in the Confidential Report.
 - c. If the doubts or suspicions are confirmed, this fact should also be recorded and duly communicated to the officer concerned.
 - d. If as a result of the follow up action, the doubts or suspicions are neither cleared nor confirmed, the officer's conduct should be watched for a further period and thereafter action taken as indicated at (b) and (c) above.
